A little bit about Julie.....

The biggest compliment I can receive is when you walk into the doors of my restaurant - you feel "home" or comforted. If that is what you're feeling, then we have accomplished what we have set out to do. The basis of this restaurant is to feel like you are visiting your grandparent's home. It is a return to the days when going to Sunday dinner with family meant talks about your day, enjoying home cooked meals, and focusing on FAMILY and togetherness. I think this is a feeling that has been lost in today's society. I want you to be considered family and honestly KNOW that we feel that way about you and your family.

Just a quick review of my restaurant background - I began my career in the hospitality industry in 2006 as a server at Brother's Restaurant. My original career plan was to become a Physical Therapist and I had worked at Murphy Medical Center as a nurse aide/PT Tech/Office Manager for the fifteen years prior to starting my restaurant career. I could never finish my degree, so life and its twists and turns led me to the restaurant field. I worked my way up and managed Brother's, Brother's Copper Kettle, Brother's Willow Ranch and Southern Charm for several years. I left for a short while and tried my hand at other restaurant ventures that were best forgotten. My management career included some years with a local BBQ place for 6 years as well. I obtained my restaurant here with the sole help of the good Lord above - I honestly couldn't tell you how grateful I am that doors were opened for me, and I was given the chance to own my little restaurant. I completely say it was my God's will and his alone that has kept us going through the troubles of today. We are more than blessed and appreciate everything that we are given and able to achieve here. My daughters are not only my managers - but they are also my pride and joy and I feel blessed to be able to work with them daily. My son (who owns Wilkins Excavating) is another of my treasures - he is an excellent cook, but he has his own dreams to achieve. I have a staff fortunately of not only some of my best friends in this world but also extended family who work diligently to help me keep my dream alive. They are MORE than appreciated for what they do.

YOU - are family here - we love you all and want you to know that when you dine at this restaurant.

— Julie
